The Phoenix
Arts Club

The Phoenix Arts Club has been a home away from home for West End entertainers for over thirty years, and continues to welcome cast, crew and lovers of the theatrics. We are open seven days a week from 5pm 'til 3am (2am on Sundays).

The room originally served as the rehearsal rooms for the Phoenix Theatre. Its floors have been graced by the likes of Noël Coward and Gertrude Lawrence, who starred in Private Lives in the 1930s. Today, the venue operates as a rehearsal space for some of the biggest west ends shows during the day, and in the evenings runs pre & post-theatre drinks sittings and shows. Those with a watchful eye may recognise the venue from its appearances in TV & Film, such as Lord Sugar's Prize on The Apprentice 2022, in Sky One's Hit Show Temple, on Anthony Bordin's The Layover, as Dolly Parton's living room, and most recently as a backdrop for Drag Race winner Jinkx Monsoon.

The Phoenix Arts Club remains one of the last remaining independently owned and operated venues in the area. The Team remained active throughout the COVID pandemic to support artists, creating a weekly live-stream that, at its peak, reached over 50,000 viewers, and raising awareness of the difficulties faced by the arts across the world, including for BBC News, ITV, Channel 4 and CNN.

Please continue to support live entertainment, and especially independent venues.

HOUSE RULES

1. Please respect members' privacy and refrain from making any unsolicited requests or taking any photographs. One day we will all be Jude Law.
2. Please ask a member of staff before moving furniture. As Maurice would say, "Don't touch the props, leave the props alone!". Imagine descending in your bubble and someone has moved the Grimmerie...
3. Our food is delicious, and our bar well stocked so please do not consume food or drink sourced from elsewhere. We are not in Digs now!
4. Our Club is closed occasionally for filming and private functions, so members are encouraged to check social media or call in before visiting. Just so you can boast about who is in.
5. There will be no chewing of gum at any time while in the Club. Or else, Maggot, you will find yourself in The Chokey.
6. Upon leaving the Club please be considerate of our neighbours. A Gondola trip down Phoenix Street shouting "Sing for me, my Angel" will not be appreciated. Other than that, "Anything Goes"
